The background is a dark teal color with a central glow that fades out towards the edges. Overlaid on this are several concentric circles and arcs. The innermost circle is a thin white line. The next layer out is a thicker, light blue circular band composed of many small, closely spaced vertical lines. Further out are several more thin white circular lines and arcs, some of which are partially cut off by the edges of the frame. The overall effect is that of a futuristic or technical interface.
